

ECON 190-01 Principles of Microeconomics
Course Syllabus

Summer 2017

Daniel Condon, Ph.D.

Lewis 232

524-6233

condondp@dom.edu

Texts: Principles of Microeconomics Frank

Course Objectives: Students who successfully complete this course will:

- Gain a solid understanding of microeconomic theory
- Be able to apply the theory to real world situations
- Be prepared for future coursework in microeconomics
- Produce cogent written analysis

Grading: Grades will be determined in the following manner:

Midterm Exams	50%
Final Exam	35%
Article Reviews	15%

Students will bring a current news article to class each meeting that relates to the economic theory we discuss in class each week. Students will turn in a one or two paragraph discussion of how the article fits with the class material. With rare exceptions, article reviews will not be accepted late. The scale for article reviews is as follows:

All articles complete =A
1 or 2 missing = B
3 or more =F

Note: Class attendance is expected. Students are responsible for anything that occurs in class whether they are in attendance or not. Make up exams will not be given unless there is a situation beyond the student's control that can be authenticated in writing.

